

READY TO GO!
VIDEO LESSONS TO
SUPPORT NEW ARRIVALS
AT HOME, ON A PHONE OR AN IPAD.

Ready to Go: Video Lessons to Support New Arrivals at home, on the phone or on an Ipad. (And during school closures too.)

PAMELA BROUSSARD @Leadingells and FB group Leading Ells.

These lessons links were created to be a way for my high school New Arrivals to get extra support for lessons we covered in the classroom. If students have phones/Ipads, they can scan the QR codes. If they are on computers, they can click the pictures and it will lead them to the links. Students will need to be able access to Youtube.

(These links were gathered as a resource based on the facts that the pacing of the video and the content of topics were appropriate for my high school New Arrivals. There are a few with British accents but they cover the content and I have never had students get hung up on the accents.) It is my sincere hope that these links will be helpful for your students, their families and even those who work at your school who are learning English.

How to Use?

1. Weekly: Print weekly pages and handout for the week. Each day, have students highlight different titles they are to practice that night. Have special folder just for collecting these so students/families can eventually have a full collection.
2. Print all 8 collections of lessons and make student folders that can be kept. Students check off lessons they have watched/mastered/or answered questions you have written.
3. Print, put in plastic sleeve and use in a center. Teacher circles/highlight lesson for that day.
4. Use as choice boards.
5. Print, cut apart and put on index cards to use in a center or to individualize instruction.
6. Upload to Google Classroom and have students access it.
